ONLINE CAMPAIGN

»»» SEPTEMBER - OCTOBER 2025

EKO is proud to share the latest results achieved under the Erasmus+ KA2 STELLA Project - Sport as a Tool for Environmental Sustainability Learning. September marked the start of a six-month online dissemination campaign that aims to engage young people and youth workers with information and practical ways to connect sport with environmental sustainability. The campaign features a variety of activities, including online posts, audiovisual content, articles, and local events. These initiatives will encourage participants to reflect on how sport can promote sustainable practices and foster environmental awareness in youth work. Through its content, the campaign will highlight key themes such as the role of sport in promoting sustainability and the importance of environmental education in youth work. These efforts demonstrate partners' continued commitment to using sport as a powerful tool for learning, awareness, and positive environmental action.

UPDATES & UPCOMING EVENT

- The next & last TPM will be held in Braga, Portugal during the project's final conference in December 10-13, 2025. Both events will be hosted by our Portuguese partner Synergia.
